SOMEONE SPECIAL continued from page 21

Giana Scanelli and Ethan Lenza had fun at the craft table during the SSNY Halloween party last month. There, Halloween pumpkins were all the rage!

Chris Vande Bunte, Associate Minister of the Colts Neck Reformed Church, and Jackson Miller were among the creative crafters at the SSNY Halloween party last month. Dig that Pumpkin!

and, together, they complete an hour of activities. Parents and volunteers are always present.

SSNY needs donations to meet immediate needs and the organization's long-term goals. SSNY is looking for cash donations or in-kind donations, and there are many ways to donate.

SSNY is listed on E-bay as a 501(c) non-profit organization. An individual on E-bay can donate either all or part of their sale to SSNY. Or, they can call SSNY and make arrangements to drop off their in-kind donation. SSNY will list it on E-bay, sell it, and pass on a tax-deductible receipt. In the past, folks have donated small items, and one generous individual even donated a car!

To learn more about how a child can benefit from services provided by SSNY or to volunteer or donate to the organization, contact Vince Scanelli, P.O. Box 94, Colts Neck, New Jersey 07722. Vince can also be reached at (732) 431-4033, extension 222. Or, call Pam Wood at (732) 946-7511, or Associate Minister Chris Vande Bunte at the church office at (732) 462-4555. The SSNY website is www.ssny.org.

A group of smiling SSNY "buddies" take a break from the Halloween Hoot last month at the Colts Neck Reformed Church.

Talk about being multi-talented! Last month at the SSNY Halloween party, Vince Scanelli not only served as the official music starter and stopper during "musical chairs," but he even took photos, too! Breslin and Austin Ptaszynski look on.
